PTG Energy (PTG TB)

Optimistic guidance in 2Q24

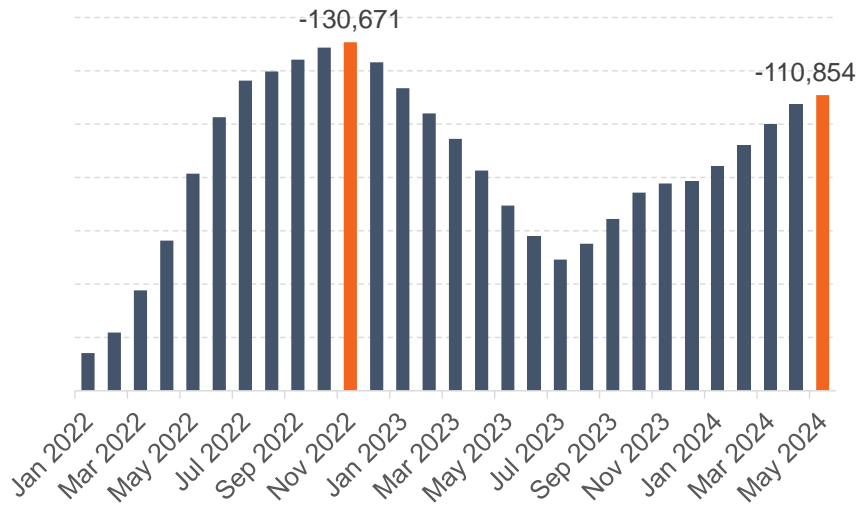

Event
Key takeaways from company's analyst meeting

- ▶ Management provided guidance for 2Q24. Its oil sales volume is expected jump QoQ seasonally and grow YoY at a double-digit level thanks to branch expansion and its card membership strategy. Meanwhile, its GPM/liter should increase QoQ as it grew continuously MoM in April-May from THB1.6/liter in March.
- ▶ PTG continued to use its membership card strategy. As a result, its oil and LPG sales grew higher than the expansion of the domestic market, pushing its market share up. In 1Q24, its oil business had a 21.8% market share (vs 19.2% in 1Q23), the third largest. Its LPG business had a 9.1% market share (vs 8.1% in 1Q23), the fourth largest.
- ▶ PTG holds a 70% stake in Go Luck to be the holder of the master franchise for operations of the Subway food brand with a 10+10 years contract. PTG aims to open 10-15 more branches this year, and open 40-50 branches in upcoming years. This is a pathway for PTG to own the global brand for the first time, and it will have the expertise to drive the growth of its F&B business.
- ▶ Its LPG business is set to be launched in an IPO in late 2024-early 2025. After it begins trading, management plans to invest in more packaging containers to support the growth of its market share to be the country's second highest market share holder within three years.
- ▶ Punthai Coffee Shop targets to increase its sales to 200 cups/day/branch to prepare for the launch of IPO in 2026.

Our take

- ▶ We have a positive view after the meeting.
- ▶ Although its share price faces uncertainty as the Oil Fuel Fund Office recently posted -THB110bn (vs the peak of -THB130bn in November 2022 with conditions to repay loans in its first installment in November 2024 in an amount totaling THB30bn), and its employee expenses may increase due to the policy to hike the minimum wage to THB400/day in October.
- ▶ However, 1) its earnings in 2Q24 are expected to grow QoQ and YoY, and we estimate that its profit in 2Q24 can reach THB300-400mn (US$8.4-11.2mn). 2) Pressures from marketing margin ease in the short term after the government capped the retail selling price of diesel at THB33/liter (vs the current level of THB31.94/liter) in early May. And, diesel costs may have peaked at the beginning of the year as crude oil prices and the diesel crack spread declined, and the THB strengthened.
- ▶ Therefore, in our view, investors can speculate on PTG to await its short-term recovery. We maintain our 2024 net profit forecast of THB1.1bn, +17% YoY (1Q24 accounted for 23% of full-year result). We re-iterate our TRADING call with a TP of THB9.90 (US$2.77), which offers a modest upside of +14.5%.
